

BRITISH LABOR PLANS POLITICAL WEAPON

Party Conference Considers Use of Industrial Action to Enforce Aims

WANT CONSCRIPTION ENDED

By the Associated Press. Southport, England, June 25.—The main interest of the outside world in the nineteenth annual conference of the Labor party, which opens in Southport today, lies in the question before it of using industrial action to secure political aims.

An influential section of the leaders of the triple alliance of miners, railway men and transport workers has long been in favor of exercising the power of the alliance to compel compliance with the demands for the abolition of conscription, the release of conscientious objectors and other objects sought.

The action taken by the executive of the triple alliance last night in deciding to convene a special conference in London July 23 to consider what action should be taken to compel the government to comply with the three principal demands mentioned, was a step independent of today's conference.

The far-reaching importance of any decision placing in the hands of the industrial unions the power to enforce political demands by means of strikes, is recognized by the executive committee of the labor conference which, in a report to be presented today, expresses the view that if labor is to institute a precedent in British industrial history it is imperative that the trade unions which adopted the new policy and whose finances presumably should be involved in carrying it out, should realize the responsibility which such a movement entails, and should themselves determine the ground plan of the new campaign.

The executive body itself does not make any declaration for or against the proposal, leaving discussion unfettered. Among other matters awaiting the attention of the conference is the organization of labor in anticipation of the next general election, which, in the opinion of many observers, is not far distant.

MAGISTRATE RAPS MAN WHO ACCUSES BOYS

Youths Who Borrowed Auto Are Arrested—Held in Municipal Jail

Magistrate Price severely criticized a man today for swearing out a warrant charging the larceny of an automobile against two boys, who, it was testified at the hearing, had returned the machine to his garage and paid him money they earned with it after his own abandonment.

"It is no small matter to make such a serious charge against these young men and so defame their character," the magistrate said to John Feeney, 2331 West Clearfield street, owner of the automobile.

James Cleary, sixteen years old, of 3056 North Twenty-third street, and Charles O'Connell, seventeen years old, 2333 West Clearfield street, testified they had gone to Frankford avenue and Somerset street with the car, the owner of the automobile Monday. He had left them to be gone a few minutes and was away three hours before they decided to take the machine home, they said.

At Fox street and Hunting Park avenue they ran out of gasoline, they testified, and bought two gallons. Then a man offered them $2.50 to take the ladders to a nearby address, they said, and after doing the job they returned the automobile and gave Mrs. Feeney the money taken in, deducting only the amount paid for gasoline.

The boys were held in $300 bail each for a further hearing Sunday.

BAPTIST BICENTENARY

Churches of Bucks and Montgomery Counties Celebrate Anniversary. Colmar, Pa., June 25.—Delegates from Baptist churches of Montgomery and Bucks counties met at the Montgomery Baptist Church here in annual session of the Bur-Mont Baptist Union.

The meeting is part of the commemoration of the 200th anniversary of the Montgomery Church.

The election resulted as follows: The Rev. Ralph R. Mayberry, Amherst, moderator; the Rev. M. E. Hare, Lansdale, vice moderator; Charles A. Smedley, North Wales, secretary; William Detweiler, Perkasie, treasurer. During the day addresses were made by the Rev. E. R. Clemons, pastor of the Montgomery Church; the Rev. C. M. Montgomery, of Norristown; the Rev. Samuel W. D. D., of Philadelphia; the Rev. C. A. Soars, D. D., Germantown, and the Rev. Frank C. Erb, D.D., Philadelphia.

The Union went on record as opposed to any legislation which will modify the prohibition law effective July 1.

Troops Back From War and Homeward Bound

ARRIVED. They at Newport News, from St. Nazaire, where they were discharged, and returned to the United States. They were met at the pier by their families and friends. They were met at the pier by their families and friends. They were met at the pier by their families and friends.

DUE TODAY. Debouché at Philadelphia from Bordeaux, where they were discharged, and returned to the United States. They were met at the pier by their families and friends.

DUE TOMORROW. Debouché at New York from France, where they were discharged, and returned to the United States. They were met at the pier by their families and friends.

7 CARS RECOVERED IN RAID ON GARAGE

West Philadelphia Place Was Under Eye of "Auto Squad" for Several Days

MAY LEAD TO GANG CAPTURE

MARIE BORNGESSER

GIRL, WHO BROTHER SHOT BY MISTAKE, DIES; BOY IS HELD

Heartbroken and Near Collapse, Youth Who Fired Shot Must Face Coroner

Marie Borngesser, twenty-three years old, 5502 Walsingham avenue, shot by mistake for a burglar by her brother in his home on June 18, died yesterday in the Presbyterian Hospital.

Otto, the seventeen-year-old brother who did the shooting, is being held under $1500 bail to await the action of the coroner. He is heartbroken over the tragedy.

About 1 o'clock in the morning of June 18, Miss Borngesser arose from her bed and went downstairs to await the arrival of her sister from New York, who had been visiting in the city.

She was startled by a noise, and thinking it was a burglar, got a rifle and crept stealthily downstairs. He shot his rifle, believing she was an intruder.

Miss Borngesser was twenty-three years old and a student at Bryn Mawr College. Her brother is a student at the University of Pennsylvania.

The boy was on the verge of collapse when he faced Magistrate Harris at the Thirty-second street and Woodland avenue police station today.

"I cannot realize that she would die," he said. "I will never see another son as long as I live. I would do anything if I could only bring her back."

Borngesser was accompanied to the station house by his father, Otto Borngesser. He, too, is suffering from the shock of his daughter's death, as it was generally believed that she would recover. Miss Borngesser took a change for the worse yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Henry P. Brown, of Chestnut Hill, who attended her, said that death was probably due to a weakened heart.

HELD IN SAFE ROBBERY

Man Accused in $3500 Safe Job Is Held Without Bail

Isadore Snider, twenty-eight years old, Eighth and Wood streets, arrested in connection with the safe robbery Sunday in a saloon at 701 Green street, was held without bail today by Magistrate McVeigh, at Central Station, for another hearing Friday.

Snider was arrested by Detective Clark soon after the robbery was discovered. Shortly before it was perpetrated, Clark received a telephone call from an unknown informant, who told him that the safes were to be robbed.

He reached the scene soon afterward and found Snider loitering in the neighborhood. The youths got $3500 in cash and Liberty bonds.

GEN. PERSHING AND HOOVER GET DEGREES AT OXFORD

Haig, Joffre, Orlando and Paderewski Among Other Notables Honored by English University—Ceremony Impressive

By the Associated Press. Oxford, England, June 25.—General Pershing and Herbert C. Hoover represented the United States today in a distinguished company of noted men from the Allied countries who were honored by Oxford University with degrees of doctor of civil law. The ceremony was the culminating feature of the annual Encenia, or commemoration exercises.

The event was rich in ceremonial pomp. A handful of American army students, who have been studying here since the outbreak of the war, were among those who witnessed the ceremony was Mrs. Hoover.

Earl Curzon, chancellor of the university, presided, and solemnly went through the prescribed formula of proposing the degrees to the house. After the house had as solemnly granted the degree, the recipients were summoned in turn by the public orator.

Notables Receive Degrees. Those upon whom the degrees were conferred included General Pershing, Mr. Hoover, Baron Makino, head of the Japanese peace conference delegation; Marshal Joffre, of France; Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty, Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, Major General Sir Henry Hughes Wilson, chief of the British imperial staff, and Vice Admiral Sir Rosslyn Wemyss, first sea lord.

Former Premier Orlando, of Italy, and Premier Ignace Jan Paderewski, of Poland, received degrees by proxy. Each of these men, as they were presented with their degrees, bowed their thanks and took their seats. No speeches were made by those to whom the degrees were given, and the ceremony was concluded quickly.

General Pershing and most of the other notable persons present came down from London by automobile this morning. All the invited persons assembled at Trinity College. The procession formed there and marched to

YEOWOMAN IS MARRIED

West Philadelphia Place Was Under Eye of "Auto Squad" for Several Days

MAY LEAD TO GANG CAPTURE

Seven stolen automobiles have been recovered by the "automobile squad" of the local detective bureau in a garage on Salford street, between Race and Vine streets, West Philadelphia. The raid was made after detectives lay hidden in a nearby house and watched the garage for several days. It is believed the raid will lead to the rounding up of a band of automobile thieves that has been operating successfully throughout the East for several months.

Lieutenant Joseph LeStrange, head of the "automobile squad," directed the raid. He was assisted by Detectives Beckman, Freund and Jeffries.

Garage Raided Before. "Jesse Kane, who conducted the place, was recently sentenced to five years in jail for automobile theft. The garage has been raided on several occasions and stolen automobiles recovered, the police say.

The name of the man operating the place now is withheld in order to give the authorities a better opportunity to catch members of the gang. The fact that one of the automobiles recovered was stolen from Springfield, Mass., indicates the widespread activity of the band.

The other machines recovered were the property of Philadelphia. One was owned by Samuel Taplin, a real estate broker in the Widener Building. It was stolen from Fifteenth and Walnut streets June 18.

Another was the property of Charles Bond & Co., 514 Arch street, and was stolen from Fifth and Arch streets June 19.

Lansdowne Car Recovered. Others recovered included the automobiles of Olive L. Warner, 428 North Seventeenth street, stolen from Broad and Locust streets June 19; Moses L. Blumenthal, 522 Walnut street, stolen from Fifth and Walnut streets June 18; Hughes Auto Company, Lansdowne, stolen from Twelfth and Fibert streets June 19, and Atlas Portland Cement Company, Widener Building, stolen from Broad and Spruce streets May 10.

The raid on two garages is another step in the plan of the Detective Bureau of Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington to break up the gang. More important arrests are expected in a few days. The police are searching big hospitals in the east for the leader of the band, who is said to be undergoing treatment.

The recovered automobiles were taken to City Hall courtyard. The Hughes Auto Company has already claimed its car.

Harry Williams, twenty-seven years old, Manning street, and Clarence Doggett, twenty-five, Panama street, were held under $2000 bail each today by Magistrate Baker. Twenty-eight and Ritner street station, charged with the theft of an automobile. They will have another hearing July 3. A third man wanted for the same offense made his getaway. The men are negroes.

The arrests were made early today by Mounted Patrolman Anderson, when he saw the three enter a two-car into League Island Park and transfer equipment from one to another.

Investigation disclosed the fact that one of the machines, owned by Samuel B. Bortell, Thirty-fourth and Wallace streets, had been stolen from Fifteenth and Arch streets. The other machine was owned by a South street jeweler.

Baltimore Mayor Heads Moose Aurora, Ill., June 25.—Mayor William F. Broening, of Baltimore, was elected supreme dictator of the Local Order of Moose yesterday at the thirty-first annual convention in session at Mooseheart, near Aurora.

Among members of the bridal party were Mr. and Mrs. John Scanlan, Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel B. Klinton, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Burke, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Rafigan, Miss Mary Dougherty, Martin Burke, Sr., Mrs. Margaret Rockford, Mr. and Mrs. John Kinney, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grier.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. J. Mackle, Sr., Dr. Vincent Finerty and wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. McGroarty, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Keogh, Mr. and Mrs. James Kershaw, Mr. and Mrs. James Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. William Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Burke, Jr.

Mrs. William McEvan, Mrs. C. Closter, Mrs. Mary Rochfus, Miss Marie Mackle, Miss Leona Vinna, Miss Anna Kelly, Miss Helen Dogg, Miss Rosemary O'Neil, Miss Margaret Closskey, Miss Catharine Rhodes, Miss Maria Rahle, Miss Anna Hammel, Miss Mary Hammel.

Messrs. Anthony C. Burke, Reynolds Brooke, James Kershaw, J. Keogh, Jr., Martin Scully, Joseph Rhodes, James Walker, O'Neil, Miss Masterson, Hugh Ross, Jack Gould, A. Levi, Thomas Mackle, James Jehoe, Frank O'Brien.

Sheldonian Theatre, where the ceremony was held. The public, most of whom were unable to gain admission to the building, were packed along both sides of the line of march, keen for a sight of the celebrities. The crowd cheered those whom they recognized.

Both General Pershing and Mr. Hoover were greeted heartily when the group filed into the theatre. Every seat in the building was occupied. The great audience arose as the distinguished visitors entered and escorted them to their places on the rostrum. The organ played "God Save the King."

Setting Emphasizes Impressiveness. The impressiveness of the occasion was emphasized by the stately beauty of its setting. The deep crimson of the carpets and hangings contrasted vividly with the black robes of the students and the dark oak wall panelings.

After the degrees were conferred the recipients sat back in their seats to hear a young Oriel College student, winner of the Newgate prize for English verse, recite a composition eulogizing France. The chancellor then dissolved the convocation and the procession moved out of the building to the music of a string quartet.

American students at Oxford abandoned their plan for an informal reception in General Pershing's honor because of the uncertainty of his ability to leave army headquarters and come to Oxford for the ceremony. Most of the American students left here yesterday for Liverpool and Brest on their way to their homes in the United States. Only thirty of them remained here to participate in a big victory pageant to be given by the university beginning tomorrow.

After leaving the theatre the party proceeded to All Souls' College to attend a luncheon given by officials of the university. Besides those participating in the degree ceremonies, the guests included Mrs. Hoover and Major General John Bidde and Colonel Lloyd C. Griscom, general Pershing's aide.

Several dates have been fixed for examinations, but the test was continued at the request of the Philadelphia Housing Association, the members of which insist the position should be had by an engineer and that the salary should be increased from $3100 to $4000.

Man's Skull Fractured in Attack. Samuel Wisnokon, twenty-four years old, of 1530 North Eighth street, is in St. Mary's Hospital, suffering from a probable fractured skull, as a result of having been struck over the head with a pair of tongs.

The reason for the assault has not been discovered, and the alleged assailant managed to get away. Wisnokon was picked up on the street.

YEOWOMAN IS MARRIED

West Philadelphia Place Was Under Eye of "Auto Squad" for Several Days

MAY LEAD TO GANG CAPTURE

Miss Annie Marie McNally, 2342 East Cumberland street, and Thomas Rhodes, 113 East Lehigh avenue, were married this morning in St. Ann's Church, Lehigh avenue and Memphis street. The bride is a yeowoman at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, where her husband also is employed.

YEOWOMAN BRIDE OF NAVY YARD MAN

Hundreds See Rites Solemnized at St. Ann's Church—Honey-moon to Niagara Falls

Miss Anna Marie McNally, 2342 East Cumberland street, and Thomas Rhodes, 113 East Lehigh avenue, were married this morning in St. Ann's Church, Lehigh avenue and Memphis street.

The bride is a yeowoman at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, where her husband also is employed.

Several hundred persons attended the ceremony, and the streets outside were lined with hundreds who gathered to view the bridal party.

The Rev. Matthew Hand officiated. He was assisted by the Rev. Edward Kern and the Rev. Joseph McDowell. An augmented choir sang the mass.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, Captain James J. McNally. Preceding the bride was six-year-old Clara McNally as flower girl and the Misses Agnes and Celestine McNally, sisters of the bride, who were bridesmaids.

The bride wore a white satin gown trimmed with silver lace and carried orange blossoms. Her attendants were tastefully attired in gowns of the semi-sheer, brocade mode of orchid taffeta and carried shepherdess crooks.

The bride and bridegroom met at the altar. Ray Rhodes, brother of the bridegroom, and James J. McNally, brother of the bride, officiated as ushers.

Among members of the bridal party were Mr. and Mrs. John Scanlan, Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel B. Klinton, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Burke, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Rafigan, Miss Mary Dougherty, Martin Burke, Sr., Mrs. Margaret Rockford, Mr. and Mrs. John Kinney, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grier.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. J. Mackle, Sr., Dr. Vincent Finerty and wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. McGroarty, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Keogh, Mr. and Mrs. James Kershaw, Mr. and Mrs. James Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. William Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Burke, Jr.

Mrs. William McEvan, Mrs. C. Closter, Mrs. Mary Rochfus, Miss Marie Mackle, Miss Leona Vinna, Miss Anna Kelly, Miss Helen Dogg, Miss Rosemary O'Neil, Miss Margaret Closskey, Miss Catharine Rhodes, Miss Maria Rahle, Miss Anna Hammel, Miss Mary Hammel.

Messrs. Anthony C. Burke, Reynolds Brooke, James Kershaw, J. Keogh, Jr., Martin Scully, Joseph Rhodes, James Walker, O'Neil, Miss Masterson, Hugh Ross, Jack Gould, A. Levi, Thomas Mackle, James Jehoe, Frank O'Brien.

Sheldonian Theatre, where the ceremony was held. The public, most of whom were unable to gain admission to the building, were packed along both sides of the line of march, keen for a sight of the celebrities. The crowd cheered those whom they recognized.

Both General Pershing and Mr. Hoover were greeted heartily when the group filed into the theatre. Every seat in the building was occupied. The great audience arose as the distinguished visitors entered and escorted them to their places on the rostrum. The organ played "God Save the King."

Setting Emphasizes Impressiveness. The impressiveness of the occasion was emphasized by the stately beauty of its setting. The deep crimson of the carpets and hangings contrasted vividly with the black robes of the students and the dark oak wall panelings.

After the degrees were conferred the recipients sat back in their seats to hear a young Oriel College student, winner of the Newgate prize for English verse, recite a composition eulogizing France. The chancellor then dissolved the convocation and the procession moved out of the building to the music of a string quartet.

American students at Oxford abandoned their plan for an informal reception in General Pershing's honor because of the uncertainty of his ability to leave army headquarters and come to Oxford for the ceremony. Most of the American students left here yesterday for Liverpool and Brest on their way to their homes in the United States. Only thirty of them remained here to participate in a big victory pageant to be given by the university beginning tomorrow.

After leaving the theatre the party proceeded to All Souls' College to attend a luncheon given by officials of the university. Besides those participating in the degree ceremonies, the guests included Mrs. Hoover and Major General John Bidde and Colonel Lloyd C. Griscom, general Pershing's aide.

Several dates have been fixed for examinations, but the test was continued at the request of the Philadelphia Housing Association, the members of which insist the position should be had by an engineer and that the salary should be increased from $3100 to $4000.

Man's Skull Fractured in Attack. Samuel Wisnokon, twenty-four years old, of 1530 North Eighth street, is in St. Mary's Hospital, suffering from a probable fractured skull, as a result of having been struck over the head with a pair of tongs.

The reason for the assault has not been discovered, and the alleged assailant managed to get away. Wisnokon was picked up on the street.

U-117, ONCE TERROR OF COAST, IS CAPTIVE IN NAVY YARD

German Mine-laying Submarine Humbled and Paint-blistered, Rests a Passive Prisoner in Back Channel

Lean and paint-blistered and rather dirty, her rusted sides shined by the waters of the back-channel, the German U-117, lies off pier E, Lehigh Island, today, where she will probably rot away her years of regret for a few futile months of mine-laying along the Atlantic coast.

The U-117 has been in American waters before. She came up from Norfolk, starting Monday night, and did it neatly, because she's good for twenty-two knots and is very seaworthy. She may have been along that route before, as stated, because she is suspected of being one of the mine-spawning sea monsters that strewed the Atlantic coast with cans of T-N-T from Marblehead south to Norfolk. She is blamed for the sinking of the cruiser San Diego off Fire Island. If a ship has a soul, as some sailors think, perhaps a U-boat has the warped beginnings of one, and she will have a fine time there in the back-channel letting time take its toll of her, while the American navy and merchant marine sail the seven seas forever.

Constructed in 1918. The U-117 is one of the exhibits which will be on view when the navy yard is thrown open on Saturday to the public. Not many people will get to go inside her, but if they do practical souls will think it a shame so much pains was put into the intricate machinery of a craft which was bound to be turned over to the Allies so soon. Her intricate machinery, a maze of wheels and pipes and levers and dials, was and is all labeled painstakingly in the language of the once hopeful fatherland. But this "Klause-zu, achtung, fetz, fuellen, klappauf, bewusstsein" stuff was too much for Great Britain.

After staying about two months at Harwich, during which time the British navy was still trying solemnly to solve her mysteries, the American navy took her over, traced out her various wires, bars, pipes and gears, and inside of a week was ready to take her over under her own power. According to an old salt who came overseas on another sub, "the British must have thought U-boats were hoodlums. They couldn't figure them out, and they didn't want to."

The U-117, with two 1200 horsepower Nurnberg-Diesel engines to run her when awash, and two 500 horsepower motor-generators for power when submerged, came over to America like a tame old dog. "There was nothing

Two hundred and seventy-five feet over all, with twenty-three feet beam, she was a very fair specimen of her sort. Her intricate machinery, a maze of wheels and pipes and levers and dials, was and is all labeled painstakingly in the language of the once hopeful fatherland. But this "Klause-zu, achtung, fetz, fuellen, klappauf, bewusstsein" stuff was too much for Great Britain.

Members of the Philadelphia charter revision committee went to Harrisburg this morning to witness the signing of the Woodward bill, the accomplishment of their endeavors.

Heading the party, which left Broad Street Station on the 10:25 train, was John C. Winston, chairman of the committee. The other members of the delegation were Russel Dunne, Powell Evans, William P. Disston, Howard R. Sheppard, Arthur E. Newbold, Thomas S. Gates, William Draper Lewis and the Rev. Frank P. Parkin.

Important professional engagements prevented the attendance of Thomas Reburn White, legal advisor of the committee, who had much to do with the actual drafting of the measure. Arthur H. Lea was also detained by private engagements.

George W. Coles and Senator George Woodward are in Harrisburg, and joined the Philadelphia delegation on its arrival.

Mr. Winston said that he had received a telegram only last night from the Governor's secretary, notifying the committee that the signing of the charter revision bill had been set for this afternoon. The short notice, he said, made it impossible to communicate with all members of the committee and other supporters of the bill, some of whom were out of town, and the delegation merely represented such members as could be reached by a "hurry call."

Mr. Winston said that he had received a telegram only last night from the Governor's secretary, notifying the committee that the signing of the charter revision bill had been set for this afternoon. The short notice, he said, made it impossible to communicate with all members of the committee and other supporters of the bill, some of whom were out of town, and the delegation merely represented such members as could be reached by a "hurry call."

Mr. Winston said that he had received a telegram only last night from the Governor's secretary, notifying the committee that the signing of the charter revision bill had been set for this afternoon. The short notice, he said, made it impossible to communicate with all members of the committee and other supporters of the bill, some of whom were out of town, and the delegation merely represented such members as could be reached by a "hurry call."

Mr. Winston said that he had received a telegram only last night from the Governor's secretary, notifying the committee that the signing of the charter revision bill had been set for this afternoon. The short notice, he said, made it impossible to communicate with all members of the committee and other supporters of the bill, some of whom were out of town, and the delegation merely represented such members as could be reached by a "hurry call."

Mr. Winston said that he had received a telegram only last night from the Governor's secretary, notifying the committee that the signing of the charter revision bill had been set for this afternoon. The short notice, he said, made it impossible to communicate with all members of the committee and other supporters of the bill, some of whom were out of town, and the delegation merely represented such members as could be reached by a "hurry call."

Mr. Winston said that he had received a telegram only last night from the Governor's secretary, notifying the committee that the signing of the charter revision bill had been set for this afternoon. The short notice, he said, made it impossible to communicate with all members of the committee and other supporters of the bill, some of whom were out of town, and the delegation merely represented such members as could be reached by a "hurry call."

Mr. Winston said that he had received a telegram only last night from the Governor's secretary, notifying the committee that the signing of the charter revision bill had been set for this afternoon. The short notice, he said, made it impossible to communicate with all members of the committee and other supporters of the bill, some of whom were out of town, and the delegation merely represented such members as could be reached by a "hurry call."

Mr. Winston said that he had received a telegram only last night from the Governor's secretary, notifying the committee that the signing of the charter revision bill had been set for this afternoon. The short notice, he said, made it impossible to communicate with all members of the committee and other supporters of the bill, some of whom were out of town, and the delegation merely represented such members as could be reached by a "hurry call."

Mr. Winston said that he had received a telegram only last night from the Governor's secretary, notifying the committee that the signing of the charter revision bill had been set for this afternoon. The short notice, he said, made it impossible to communicate with all members of the committee and other supporters of the bill, some of whom were out of town, and the delegation merely represented such members as could be reached by a "hurry call."

Mr. Winston said that he had received a telegram only last night from the Governor's secretary, notifying the committee that the signing of the charter revision bill had been set for this afternoon. The short notice, he said, made it impossible to communicate with all members of the committee and other supporters of the bill, some of whom were out of town, and the delegation merely represented such members as could be reached by a "hurry call."

Mr. Winston said that he had received a telegram only last night from the Governor's secretary, notifying the committee that the signing of the charter revision bill had been set for this afternoon. The short notice, he said, made it impossible to communicate with all members of the committee and other supporters of the bill, some of whom were out of town, and the delegation merely represented such members as could be reached by a "hurry call."

Mr. Winston said that he had received a telegram only last night from the Governor's secretary, notifying the committee that the signing of the charter revision bill had been set for this afternoon. The short notice, he said, made it impossible to communicate with all members of the committee and other supporters of the bill, some of whom were out of town, and the delegation merely represented such members as could be reached by a "hurry call."

Mr. Winston said that he had received a telegram only last night from the Governor's secretary, notifying the committee that the signing of the charter revision bill had been set for this afternoon. The short notice, he said, made it impossible to communicate with all members of the committee and other supporters of the bill, some of whom were out of town, and the delegation merely represented such members as could be reached by a "hurry call."

Mr. Winston said that he had received a telegram only last night from the Governor's secretary, notifying the committee that the signing of the charter revision bill had been set for this afternoon. The short notice, he said, made it impossible to communicate with all members of the committee and other supporters of the bill, some of whom were out of town, and the delegation merely represented such members as could be reached by a "hurry call."

Mr. Winston said that he had received a telegram only last night from the Governor's secretary, notifying the committee that the signing of the charter revision bill had been set for this afternoon. The short notice, he said, made it impossible to communicate with all members of the committee and other supporters of the bill, some of whom were out of town, and the delegation merely represented such members as could be reached by a "hurry call."

Mr. Winston said that he had received a telegram only last night from the Governor's secretary, notifying the committee that the signing of the charter revision bill had been set for this afternoon. The short notice, he said, made it impossible to communicate with all members of the committee and other supporters of the bill, some of whom were out of town, and the delegation merely represented such members as could be reached by a "hurry call."

Mr. Winston said that he had received a telegram only last night from the Governor's secretary, notifying the committee that the signing of the charter revision bill had been set for this afternoon. The short notice, he said, made it impossible to communicate with all members of the committee and other supporters of the bill, some of whom were out of town, and the delegation merely represented such members as could be reached by a "hurry call."

Mr. Winston said that he had received a telegram only last night from the Governor's secretary, notifying the committee that the signing of the charter revision bill had been set for this afternoon. The short notice, he said, made it impossible to communicate with all members of the committee and other supporters of the bill, some of whom were out of town, and the delegation merely represented such members as could be reached by a "hurry call."

Mr. Winston said that he had received a telegram only last night from the Governor's secretary, notifying the committee that the signing of the charter revision bill had been set for this afternoon. The short notice, he said, made it impossible to communicate with all members of the committee and other supporters of the bill, some of whom were out of town, and the delegation merely represented such members as could be reached by a "hurry call."

Mr. Winston said that he had received a telegram only last night from the Governor's secretary, notifying the committee that the signing of the charter revision bill had been set for this afternoon. The short notice, he said, made it impossible to communicate with all members of the committee and other supporters of the bill, some of whom were out of town, and the delegation merely represented such members as could be reached by a "hurry call."

Rockwood & Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., Lockwood, Green & Co., Architects. "Turner for Concrete" With the coming of prohibition, the candy industry is bound to prosper. We built for: Wallace & Sons, Pennsylvania Chocolate Co., Jordan's Condensed Milk Co. TURNER Construction Co. 1713 Sanson Street had been on the water only a few minutes when they saw teachers on the bank watching and calling them to come in. Hester urged the boys, they said, not to go in to shore till the teachers left, so she would not be recognized.

She was